

Order Army, Air Force Rockets to Vicinity of Moon

President Gives Go Ahead for Space Project

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force and Army were ordered today to launch four and possibly five rockets to the "vicinity of the moon."

Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy announced the program for launching "small unmanned space vehicles" shortly after the White House disclosed that President Eisenhower had given a go-ahead for the moon project.

The Air Force will make "three lunar probes" in the program for taking a "close look at the moon."

The Army will fire one and possibly two moon-inspecting rockets.

McElroy did not say when the efforts will be made.

$8 Million to Start

The Pentagon disclosed that the rockets will carry crude, television like instruments which it hopes will send to earth "topographical information" about the moon.

The TV-like "mechanical ground scanning system" will be developed by the naval ordnance test station at China Lake, Calif.

McElroy said the Pentagon's Advanced Research Projects Agency has made an "initial allocation" of eight million dollars to start work on the moon projects.

McElroy also revealed that the Army has been assigned to launch two and possibly three more earth satellites of the Explorer type during the International Geophysical Year. The Army has fired three earth satellites. Two have gone into orbit.

ARPA Director Roy W. Johnson said that neither he nor other defense officials could "speculate on when the first successful lunar probe would be achieved."

Nor would he say what instruments the rockets will carry in addition to ground scanners.

Lists Rockets Used

McElroy revealed that the Air Force will make its lunar probes with three-stage rockets.

The first stage will be the Thor booster, a rocket engine with a thrust of about 150,000 pounds. It is used in the Thor intermediate range ballistic missile.

The second stage will be the same rocket used as the second stage and "brains" of the Navy's Vanguard satellite launcher.

The third stage is yet to be developed.

The Air Force program was assigned to that service's ballistic missile division at Los Angeles.

The Army will use "modified" Jupiter-C rockets in its moon probing as well as its new satellite projects.

The first stage of the current Jupiter-C is a souped-up Redstone rocket with 83,000 pounds of thrust. Its three upper stages are clusters of 11, 3, and 1 solid fuel rockets respectively.

The Army Ballistic Missile Agency at Huntsville, Ala., was assigned the Army mission.

Follows Space Report

The official announcement was not precise as to the targets of the first lunar launchings.

A Pentagon spokesman said he is certain the Defense Department intends to "look at all of the moon," including the so-called "far side," which has never been seen by man.

The announcement of new moon projects followed up a report issued late Wednesday by the President's Science Advisory Committee on what is feasible now and what lies far in the future of space exploration.

The report disclosed that U. S. scientists are eager to send a clock into space in an earth satellite "as soon as possible" to test one of the late Albert Einstein's theories of relativity.

'The Bridge on the River Kwai' Named Best Picture

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Filmland turned out in its glittering best Wednesday night to honor Alec Guinness, Joanne Woodward and "The Bridge on the River Kwai" as the top actor, actress and picture of 1957.

"Kwai," an indictment of war and a drama of the struggle between an iron-willed British colonel (Guinness) and a Japanese prisoner camp commander, took 7 of the 21 golden Oscars presented at the 30th annual awards of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

The prize-winning film and "Sayonara," an East-West love story set in Japan, practically made the awards a two-picture affair, winning a total of 11 Oscars.

Red Buttons, comedian turned dramatic actor in the touching love story, was selected as the best supporting actor as expected, but the choice of his "wife" in the film, Miyoshi Umeki, as best supporting actress wasn't.

Blaze Hollywoodites who packed the 2,800-seat RKO Pantages Theatre stood and cheered for several minutes when "Kwai" was announced as the top picture.

Senate Presses For Passage of Highway Bill

Move to Strip Anti-Billboard Provision Defeated, 47-41

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate pressed for passage today of a $5,500,000,000 highway bill by nightfall that erects a moderate barrier to billboards along the new 41,000-mile interstate road system.

Democratic backers planned to clear the bill under a procedure which, if successful, could bypass lengthy House committee consideration and send the measure to the White House by Easter.

The bill would result in a $1,800,000,000 speedup in state-federal highway authorizations this year. Its jobmaking potential has been estimated at all the way from 90,000 to 520,000 jobs.

Meeting early and quitting close to midnight Wednesday, the Senate defeated, 47-41, an effort to strip away the measure's anti-billboard provision. Some amendments to weaken the proviso were adopted. Others were hailed as strengthening the anti-billboard feature.

Allow Small Billboards
As now written the billboard clause does not bar billboards along the new highway system but would give states cash incentives to regulate them.

States agreeing to comply with still-to-be-drafted federal standards on advertising would be given a bonus of 1-2 of 1 per cent over the 90 per cent of highway costs the federal government now pays.

The secretary of commerce would draft the standards. In general these would allow only some small billboards, "for sale" signs and signs advertising events on adjacent property along scenic country sections of the new interstate network.

Official direction signs and signs noting features of special interest such as battle grounds and scenic attractions would be permitted.

Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla.), a leading foe of the anti-billboard proviso, claimed it would "legalize government seduction" by offering "a few pieces of silver" to persuade states to yield authority they don't legally possess. He and other foes argued it would invade state rights.

Brother of Late Rev. H. C. Croslin Dies

Lawrence Croslin, 74, a former resident of West Frankfort, died at his home in Mill Valley, Calif., Saturday evening. He was the brother of the late Rev. H. C. Croslin, who was at one time pastor of the First Baptist church in Carrier Mills and active throughout this area.

The body will be brought to West Frankfort and will lie in state at 6 p. m. Friday in the Walker funeral home there. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday in the East Fork Baptist church near West Frankfort with Rev. Lloyd Fry officiating assisted by Rev. Arthur Boyer. Burial will be in the East Fork cemetery.

Khrushchev's Grab Of Power Could Be Dangerous to West

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials said today that Nikita Khrushchev's grab of the Soviet premiership gives him a "terrific concentration of power" which could be dangerous for the West.

They said danger always exists when supreme power is concentrated in the hands of any dictator.

The ouster of Nikolai Bulganin finally put Khrushchev on top in name as well as in fact—after a five-year Kremlin fight for Josef Stalin's mantle as dictator.

Khrushchev's elevation to the premiership would give Russia a single voice at any future summit conference. It is expected to spark a new Soviet drive for such a meeting.

Bulganin was been carrying on considerable correspondence with the President on the subject of summit talks, but Khrushchev has been the power behind the Soviet letters — even though they have been signed by Bulganin. Now Khrushchev will be speaking as the single voice of the Kremlin, instead of through some figurehead.

Humane Society Postpones Tag Day

The Harrisburg Humane society has postponed its annual Tag Day to Saturday because it would conflict with the Lily Parade Tag Day also set for that day.

The Humane Society Tag Day will be held in April, it was announced.

Untrue Stories About School Board Malign Eldorado

An erroneous interpretation of the Eldorado school board situation by a press association (not The United Press which serves The Daily Register) has caused undue and unfavorable publicity for Eldorado.

The Eldorado City school board recently voted to abolish the situation of City Superintendent of Schools. At about the same time, the High school board announced addition of baseball to the sports curriculum.

The press association dispatch, used in metropolitan papers, indicated that the actions were by the same board, and by inference indicated the board had no money for a superintendent, but had money for another sports activity.

Then, to add to the indignity, the St. Louis Globe-Democrat today editorialized on the situation by accepting the erroneous story and ridiculing the school board and Eldorado in general.

The people of Eldorado have faced a problem of school financing for a long period. There has been some dissension between members of the City school board and wholesale resignations. But this has occurred in other towns and likely will do so again. Although it may be subject to objective criticism, it certainly should not be subject to ridicule, especially if the basis is absolutely unfounded.

The people of Eldorado will work out their problem eventually, and can do so without outside assistance.

Cousin of Ralph Burroughs Dies

Mrs. Emily Brinkley, resident of Alton, died there Tuesday. She was the wife of George Brinkley and the cousin of Ralph Burroughs, Harrisburg. The body will be received by the Wright funeral home in Shawneetown and the funeral will be held there at 2 p. m. Friday. Burial will be in the Leavell Hill cemetery.

Death Takes Orley York, 80

Orley York, 80, resident of 1404 South McKinley avenue, Harrisburg, died in the Harrisburg hospital at 6 a. m. today. He was a retired coal miner, was born and reared in Saline county and was the son of the late Elias and Elizabeth Abney York of Brushy township. Mr. York is survived by his wife, Elizabeth; his sons, Harry York and Floyd York; his daughters, Mrs. Eva Vargo and Mrs. Juanita Rhode, and his brother, Everett York, all of Harrisburg.

The body will lie in state at the Gibbons funeral home and the funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Appointed at Special Meeting Of County Board

Will Assume Duties After He Receives His Commission

J. E. "Pete" Rose today was named Saline county clerk and clerk of the county court to fill the unexpired term of Don B. Garrison, who died Monday.

Mr. Rose, Harrisburg insurance man, was appointed after balloting conducted at a special meeting of the Saline County Board of Supervisors, called to name a successor to Mr. Garrison. He will serve approximately eight months, as a new clerk will be elected at the November election, to take office the first Monday in December.

The appointee, a Republican, won by a vote of 11 to 10 over Mrs. Loveta Butler, Eldorado, the choice of the Democrats on the board.

Voting was strictly along party lines. All 22 members—12 Republicans and 10 Democrats — were present with 11 Republicans voting for Mr. Rose and 10 Democrats voting for Mrs. Butler, who has been serving as a deputy clerk in Mr. Garrison's office.

Bonds Approved

Chairman Kenneth Jackson (R-Long Branch) did not vote because board chairman vote only in case of a tie.

After the selection, his bonds as county clerk and clerk of the county court were approved. When State's Attorney Robert V. Wilson rendered an opinion that the bonds could be approved but the amounts could not be changed at the special meeting called to appoint a clerk, William Alfred Smith (R-Galatia) made a motion that a resolution be passed that the bonds be approved in the same amount as the previous county clerk and this resolution carried unanimously.

Mr. Rose will assume duties after he gets his commission from Springfield. The duties of county clerk have been suspended since Monday on order of the attorney general but Mrs. Butler has been the clerk of the county court by appointment from County Judge Trafton Dennis.

Sympathy to Garrison Family
Mr. Rose was county clerk of Saline county for eight years, being elected in 1930 and re-elected in 1934.

When Chairman Jackson opened the meeting, he asked for nominations for clerk of the special meeting and William Alfred Smith (R-Galatia) nominated Mrs. Butler. After a second by Raymond Field (R-Carrier Mills) her selection passed unanimously.

Following roll call Chairman Jackson then extended the deepest sympathies of the board to the family and friends of Mr. Garrison. It was reported by Aubrey

Bulganin Is Ousted

Khrushchev Top Soviet Leader

MOSCOW (AP) — The Supreme Soviet today ousted Nikolai Bulganin as premier and elected Communist Party head Nikita Khrushchev to replace him. In his dual role, Khrushchev becomes Russia's most powerful man since the death of Joseph Stalin.

Bulganin formally submitted his resignation to the first joint session of the newly elected Supreme Soviet this afternoon in accordance with the constitution.

P. A. Lobanov, speaker of the Soviet of the Union (upper house of parliament), read Bulganin's resignation for him.

Then, instead of Bulganin's name being proposed for renomination as is the usual custom, Khrushchev's name was presented.

The 63-year-old Ukrainian who rose to the top of the Soviet leadership in the few short years since Stalin's death was elected by acclamation.

Bulganin and all other members of the Communist Party Presidium—the inner circle ruling group—were present when the news was announced.

Bulganin previously had attended the opening session of the Soviet of the Nationalities (lower house) and Khrushchev the separate meeting of the Soviet of the Union (upper house).

Promptly after the joint session began Lobanov rose and read Bulganin's declaration, including his resignation. The delegates accepted it.

The 77-year-old President Kliment Y. Voroshilov rose and nominated Khrushchev as "an outstanding statesman in the Communist Party and the Soviet government."

Bulganin's ouster long had been rumored, and Khrushchev was considered a logical choice to succeed him.

But his decision to accept the premiership came as something of a surprise to most Western observers. The names of Frol Romanovich Kozlov and Alexei Illarionovich Kirichenko had been mentioned for the job.

There was no indication whether Khrushchev might put the nominal party leadership into the hands of a protégé. But there had been speculation that Kozlov and Kirchenko, two of Khrushchev's associates in the party secretariat, might be in line for promotion.

If Khrushchev keeps both the premiership and party leadership, he will be the first significant simultaneous occupant of the two jobs since Stalin held them from 1941 until his death in March, 1953.

When Stalin died, Georgi Malenkov nominally held both posts for a few days—March 5 to March 14, 1953. But he quit the party leadership on the day the Supreme Soviet confirmed his appointment to the post of premier.

"THE BIG RECORD," annual music revue by the Harrisburg Township high school band, will be presented Friday and Saturday at the Bonnell gym. Curtain time each evening is 8 o'clock. The 16-member K-Nine dance band will perform throughout the one and a half hour show, playing several special numbers and providing the background music for vocal numbers, dance routines, skits and pantomimes. The band's music revue has become one of the top entertainment features at the HTHS over the years and the 1958 edition is said to be one of the best—a show that will entertain every member of the family. Tickets are 50 cents for students, 75 cents for adults. They may be purchased in advance from any member of the band or at the door. (David Abell Photo)

Judging the Economy

EDITORIAL BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

By their own admission, the top economists can make no more than informed guesses as to what this country's economy will do next. Diagnosing the future of business is a most inexact science.

Because of the nature of most economic indicators, they cannot even tell to any full extent what the business situation is today, let alone a month or two from now. For example, the mid-March unemployment figures are not ready for publication until mid-April.

Their best judgments, inevitably, relate to evidences of what the economy has already done.

This lag in measuring economic levels has its dangers. It tends to increase the influence of both the optimists and the pessimists, each of which is hard at work in a business downturn painting his own portrait of conditions. The uncertainty gives them a field day.

OPTIMISTS, continuously persuaded that things are not as bad as they seem or that they soon will start to improve, can delay too long the remedial measures that might help reverse the decline.

Pessimists, harping steadily on the gloomy aspects, predicting the worst, can shake confidence in some degree and create a mood in which the swing back upward becomes more difficult.

In the light of our unsureness as to where we are and where we are going economically, it requires not only a rare cool head but a great amount of good luck for the President or anybody else to act at just the right moment to throw the government's weight against the decline.

We will only know in retrospect, when things are better again, whether Mr. Eisenhower acted in wise and timely fashion.

RIGHT now he is still waiting, holding off a shot in the arm tax cut and big-scale public works. Some think this is foolish, that the time for action is long since here. Are they pessimists, or good guessers?

Certainly nothing in the known economic picture today gives cause for any real enthusiasm. Many indicators are still moving downward. Production is still slipping, and unemployment has risen to a 16-year high. This is already the deepest recession since World War II.

Hopeful of a spring upturn, the President wants to stand by a bit longer. But as he watches he must inevitably be troubled by the thought that if he is wrong, then the steps toward recovery will in the end have to be much bigger and costlier. It is a tough spot to be in.

If he needs the accident of good luck to be right, then most Americans must be hoping fervently that he will have that accident.

Jet Link to Peace

Everybody knows by now that U. S. airlines will be offering their customers jet transport travel in 1959. What they may not fully realize is that this could include flights between the United States and Russia.

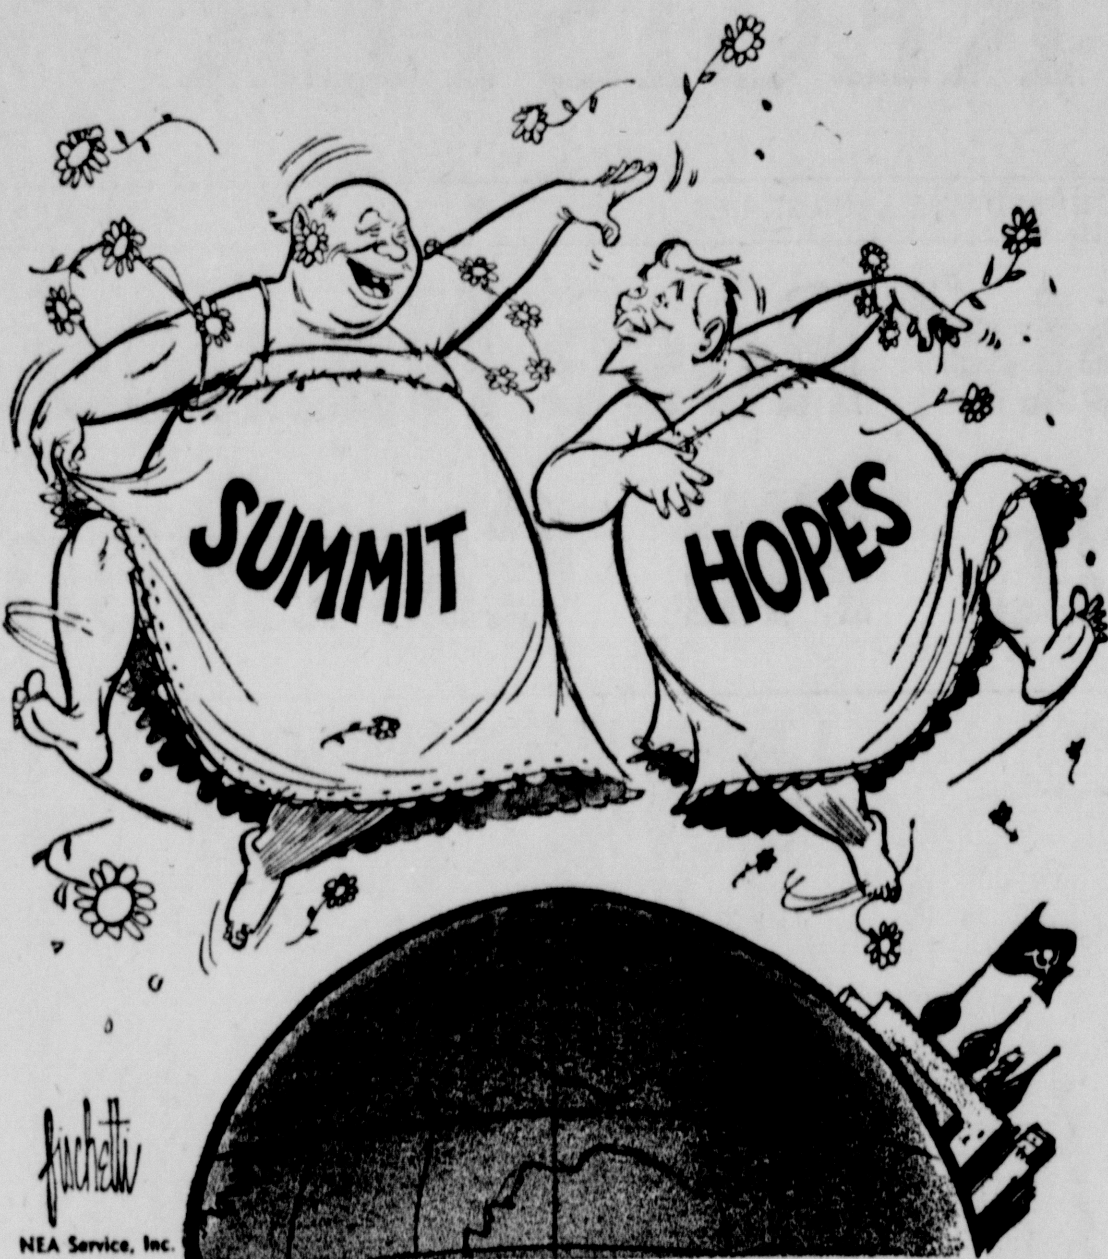

Without too much fanfare, we have concluded a commercial air treaty with the Soviet Union. The obvious intent is New York-Moscow jet service next year or perhaps a bit later.

The CAB already has authorized Pan American World Airways to set up service on such a run. Unfortunately the Russian carrier, Aeroflot, is not a member of the International Air Transport Association and there may be some delay, consequently, in arranging the details of Soviet reciprocal service to this country. But it is assumed matters will be ironed out.

To the degree that this marks a prospective further opening up of relations between East and West, it is an advance much to be sought after.

The first public weather service in this country was established in Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1869.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Louey Johnson did not kill missile program, contrary to previous report; Another Johnson, Lyndon B., of Texas, got his TV license according to Hoyle; Gen. Julius Klein is still lobbying re German property.

WASHINGTON. — The Catholic Church has a fine obligation practised by members of its faith which the rest of us non-Catholics should follow — especially newspapermen. It's the obligation of Confession. I want to follow it now in regard to some mistakes I have made.

Confession No. 1 pertains to Louey Johnson, the former Secretary of Defense. In reporting some of the reasons why we were behind Russia on missiles and satellites, I stated that Johnson had curtailed these two programs in the interest of economy when he was running the Defense Department. This was 50 per cent in error, which I now want to correct.

Louey, who conscientiously tried to knock heads together to prevent Pentagon bickering, did cut out the satellite program started by his predecessor. However, he did not cut the far more important missile program started January 10, 1946, when the Air Corps let a contract to Convair to build the MX-774. The project was killed, not by Johnson but by the then chief of staff of the Army, General Dwight D. Eisenhower, on July 1, 1947. The Army was then in control of the Air Corps.

In fairness to Eisenhower, it should be noted that he acted on the advice of his military experts. But in fairness to Louey Johnson I want to make it clear that he did not kill the missile project.

Confession No. 2 pertains to another Johnson, Senator Lyndon B., of Texas. Recently I reported that he had acquired TV Station KTBC in Austin under a quickie grant from the Federal Communications Commission right after the freeze was taken off the granting of TV licenses. While the Johnson TV grant was included among the so-called "quickie" licenses awarded in the rush of July 1952, there was no competition for it from any other applicant to Austin, and the Johnson license had been on file with the FCC since March 14, 1952. The freeze was taken off on July 1, 1952, and the Johnson application was granted July 11. Another applicant in Austin got a UHF station the same day. Johnson's was a VHF. I am delighted to make these facts entirely clear.

Confession No. 3 pertains to Speaker Sam Rayburn's disparaging remarks about Postmaster General Summerfield when Summerfield offered him some new post offices in Sam's Texas district as an apparent inducement to win Sam's support for increased postage.

Though the Speaker told the story quite recently, I now find that the incident actually happened at the last session of Congress and therefore applied to the four-cent stamp instead of the five-cent. However, the point of the story remains even more valid, because if the Speaker was sore at the Postmaster General regarding his tactics in trying to win support for the four-cent stamp, he will be even more adamant regarding the increase to five cents. He has indicated this recently in telling the story of Summerfield's offering him new post offices in order to curry favor.

Summerfield also offered Democratic Leader John McCormack some new post office buildings in Boston, but was turned down. McCormack said he preferred to see people rent buildings to the Post Office Department so they would continue to pay taxes to local governments.

I regret the error regarding the date of the Rayburn-Summerfield incident.

Confession No. 4 pertains to Major General Julius Klein of the Illinois National Guard, who has complained about certain reports I have written regarding his lobbying re the return to Germany of alien property seized by the USA in the USA during the war.

I find that I erroneously reported that General Klein was founder of the Jewish War Veterans. He was not. He was national commander of the Jewish War Veterans, 1947-48, and has been chairman of their executive committee since 1952. I regret the error.

I do not, however, regret reporting General Klein's lobbying activities because I think the public has a right to know about any efforts regarding the return of alien property, lobbying or otherwise, which would result in increasing our tax bill about $150,000,000.

General Klein self-righteously denies that he was hired to lobby for the return of German property, but it would be interesting to know why Herman Abs, the big German banker, is willing to pay him $40,000 plus expenses. Klein claims it's in order to get recognition of an international code whereby property will not be seized by foreign governments. However, he's registered with the Justice Department as a foreign agent, has made appearances before a congressional committee and introduced his client to congressmen all in the interest of creating a climate more favorable to the return of German property.

Klein also claims that Herman Abs is a poor victim of Hitler and would have us believe that Abs opposed Hitler. The fact is that Abs was one of the top bankers under Hitler, a director of I. G. Farben, a director of the Deutsch bank, and Senator Smathers of Florida has put in the congressional record proof that Abs was a member of the German bankers who participated in wresting away Jewish-owned property under Hitler.

General Klein doesn't like me to mention his connection with the Jewish War Veterans. But one reason he is paid $40,000 by Herman Abs is because most Jews are opposed to the return of German property, therefore Klein's self-advised background in Jewish lobbying efforts more effective.

After all, a great many people still remember that Hitler murdered 6,000,000 Jews—even if General Klein doesn't.

I wish to apologize, however, for reporting that he was the founder of the Jewish War Veterans. He was merely past commander.

The Saline County Garden club met in the home of Mrs. S. M. Farrar, 110 North Webster street, Tuesday. Mrs. Harry Dorris and Mrs. Harry Barter were co-hostesses with Mrs. Farrar. Mrs. Roy Reese, president, called the meeting to order and 26 members answered roll call with plans being carried out in their gardens. It was agreed that weather conditions have delayed the sowing of grass seeds, and with so much moisture, it is still not possible to follow this program.

Mrs. Bess Hagler, flower show chairman, announced that the Spring Flower show will be held May 15 at Wesley Center. Committees, she said, would be appointed later. Mrs. R. D. Brown, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Bert Armstrong, who spoke on gourds, their culture, uses, and products made from them such as vases, bird houses, bowls, sewing baskets and many decorative objects. Some of the processed gourds were on display showing the natural colors, some with designs burned into their surfaces with an electric needle and others finished with shellac or paint.

Mrs. Ray Durham spoke about chrysanthemums, telling of their development from the wild daisy, a weed. She also named some of the latest varieties and showed pictures and illustrations.

Miss Mary White, Mrs. Jerry Klavina and Mrs. J. E. Seymour, president of the Seventh Regional District, whose residence is in Benton, spoke about the series of flower shows planned for Southern Illinois including the one in Cairo Thursday. Members of the club were making plans to attend.

Following the business meeting refreshments of coffee and small cakes were served from the tea table which bore a flower arrangement of pink sweet peas and candles in silver candelabras. Mrs. Harry Barter poured the coffee.

G. C. Weir, retired miner and well known Raleigh resident, entered Lightner hospital Monday, as a medical patient.

Miss Elizabeth Anna Gribble and George David Handel Exchange Vows

Mr. and Mrs. George David Handel

Miss Elizabeth Anna Gribble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gribble, RFD 3, Harrisburg, and George David Handel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Handel, Eldorado, were married in the First Methodist church of Eldorado at 8 o'clock March 8. Rev. A. B. Clodfelter performed the double ring ceremony before the altar decorated with tall candelabras bearing lighted tapers and baskets of gladioli and fern.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a ballerina length wedding gown with a fitted bodice dipping in back and front and having long sleeves pointed at the hands. The bouffant skirt was fashioned of three tiers of scalloped net over taffeta and her veil of illusion was fingertip length. She carried a white Bible on which rested an orchid trailing ribbon streamers.

Miss Ruby Gribble, sister of the bride, was her maid of honor and wore a light blue princess style dress of blue lace over satin. She wore a white carnation corsage. Ralph Handel, Edwardsville, brother of the bridegroom, acted as his best man.

Bill Gribble, brother of the bride, and Buell Buchanan were ushers and Miss Barbara Nell Echlund, cousin of the bridegroom, and Mr. Buchanan lighted the candles.

Mrs. Mildred Cox sang "O Promise Me," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied by Miss Ruth Hamilton at the organ. Miss Hamilton also played the wedding marches.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue dress with black accessories and her corsage was of white carnations.

The mother of the bridegroom chose for her son's wedding a light blue crepe dress with black accessories and her corsage was of pink carnations.

There was a reception in the home of the bridegroom's parents immediately following the wedding and the white tiered wedding cake which held the place of honor at the bride's table supported a miniature bride and groom. The table was white linen covered and the centerpiece was a white carnation flower arrangement. There were candles at either end. Mrs. Ralph Handel, Miss Ruby Gribble and Miss Barbara Nell Echlund were hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Handel left for a short honeymoon trip to Evansville, Ind., and will make their home in Joliet.

The bride was graduated from HTHS and is employed by the Skaggs Pharmacy in Harrisburg. Mr. Handel was graduated from the Eldorado high school and is an employee of the Caterpillar Tractor company at Joliet.

His Disciples S. S. Class Holds March Meeting

His Disciples Sunday school class of the Dorrisville Social Brethren church held its March meeting in the home of Mrs. Virginia VanBibber recently. Mrs. Louline Gidumb led the opening prayer and Mrs. Lucille Pankey gave the devotion from Galatians 3rd and 4th chapters. Mrs. Audrey Reed led the closing prayer.

There were games and prizes awarded during the social hour with the door prize going to Miss Judy Stump. Refreshments were served from a table decorated for the Easter season. Sandwiches, salad, candy Easter eggs, coffee and soft drinks were served.

Others present were: Mrs. Mabel Stricklin, Mrs. Wilma Gulley and Jo Carol, Mrs. Cordelia York, Mrs. Sarah Fox, Mary Ellep and Charles, Mrs. Helen Stump, Mrs. Gladys Austin, Mrs. Blanche Herrod, Mrs. Pauline Durfee and guests; Mrs. Jo Ann Powell and Kathy Jo and Mrs. Helen Goodwin.

Home Bureau Unit Meets With Mrs. Curtis Alexander

The Gaskins City Home Bureau unit met in the home of Mrs. Curtis Alexander recently. Mrs. Martin Hunt, home adviser gave the lesson on "Your Social Security." During the social hour there were games and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Margie Alexander, Mrs. Janette Alexander, Mrs. Jewell Smith, Mrs. Verna Lockaby, Mrs. Wanda Lane and visitors. Mrs. Hunt, Mrs. Wanda Larson and Mrs. Kathleen Williams.

Refreshments of cheese cake, coffee and soft drinks were served.

A recent survey by the Veterans Administration disclosed that VA patients read six times as many books as the general American public.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewell Harris and Mr. and Mrs. Alva Gholson spent Sunday with Jacqueline Harris in Carlinville. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Lee, Taylorville, and Frank Thomas, Edwardsville. Mr. Harris and Mr. Gholson attended an IAA meeting in Springfield on Monday.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eugene Harris, Galatia, are parents of a girl born at the Harrisburg hospital today. The baby has been named Rebecca Ann and weighed seven pounds, 13 ounces at birth.

Bee Aerators

Dr. Willis H. Carrier is credited with inventing air conditioning about a half century ago, but bees beat him by many centuries. The insects carry water to the hives, where worker bees fan it with their wings to keep the honey cool.

IC to Close Centralia Car Shops April 1

CHICAGO (AP)—The Illinois Central Railroad announced today that it will close its car shops at Centralia, Ill., and McComb, Miss., effective April 1.

A spokesman for the railroad said the action was the result of declining business.

The Illinois Central has 551 employees at the Centralia shop and 213 at the McComb facility.

The spokesman said small work forces would be retained at both shops to repair damaged freight cars and work on specialty cars.

It was estimated that 160 men would be retained at Centralia and 140 at McComb.

The spokesman said all car building and general activity would be deferred for an indefinite period.

"Reopening of the shops is dependent on improvement of general business activity," said Arthur C. Carlson, public relations director of the IC.

Carlson said carloadings for the two-month period ending Feb. 28 were off 13 per cent. He said carloadings for the week ending March 22 showed a drop of almost 7,000 cars.

Carlson said net income for February of this year was $410,000 compared with $1,191,422 in February 1957.

Presents Bible To Galatia I.O.O.F.

Mrs. Stella Brock of Galatia presented an expensive Bible to Galatia Lodge 433, I. O. O. F., at a District 111 meeting held at Galatia on March 18. The Bible was presented to the I. O. O. F. lodge as a personal gift in memory of Mrs. Brock's father, George Maples, who was an active member of Galatia I. O. O. F. lodge for many years before his death.

It was incorrectly stated in Tuesday's Register that Mrs. Brock presented the Bible in behalf of Galatia Rebekah Lodge.

Matter of FACT

On June 14, 1777, when the Continental Congress approved the design of the flag of the United States, the idea of a national flag was still very new. Most European nations at the time used the flag of their kings. However, the flag of Denmark was adopted in 1219 and that of Switzerland in 1339. After the United States chose a national flag, many other nations followed suit.

SIU Festival of Fine Arts to Open Sunday; 2 Months of Activity

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Southern Illinois University's Festival of Fine Arts, a yearly program of performances and exhibitions designed to reflect the family relationship of the arts, begins here Sunday, March 30, with an address by SIU President Delyte W. Morris, an oratorio concert and a show featuring one of history's most colorful artists.

The third annual program will be the most ambitious ever attempted here, encompassing two months of cultural activity in every artistic medium.

The Festival will open at 2:30 p. m. with an Allyn Gallery exhibition of prints and posters by Toulouse-Lautrec, famed 19th century artist who immortalized the people of Paris' cafe theater and saloon society. Covering the full range of Toulouse-Lautrec's work, the show is on loan from the Museum of Modern Art in New York. The artist's tragic life was the subject of a recent popular motion picture, "Moulin Rouge."

150-Voice Choir

President Morris will officially welcome opening day Festival-goers in a 3:30 p. m. address at Shryock Auditorium preceding an appearance by the Southern Illinois Oratorio Society. The 150-voice choir, directed by Dr. Robert Hines, head of choral activities at SIU, will sing Mozart's "Requiem in D Minor," a major work in the world's oratorio literature.

Soloists for the "Requiem," all SIU students, will be Geraldine Weber, Union, Mo., soprano; Jo Ann Henson, Carrier Mills, alto; Philip Falcone, Bethlehem, Pa., tenor; and Fred Btrtram, baritone from Carmi. A Festival reception and tea will be held in Allyn Gallery following the Oratorio program.

Highlights of the Festival's first week will be a lecture on "The Art of Toulouse-Lautrec" by Burnett Shryock, dean of the SIU School of Fine Arts, at 8:15 p. m. Monday (March 31) in the University School Auditorium; the opening of a D. H. Lawrence exhibition at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday in the University Library; a lecture titled "Do I Have Good Taste?" by Dr. Charles Tenney, SIU vice president, at 8:15 p. m., April 2 in the University School Auditorium and a lecture on "The Art and Science of History," April 3 at 7:30 p. m. in Woody Hall by Dr. Herbert Muller, noted critic, writer, and professor of English at the University of Indiana.

Lectures by Deems Taylor

Appearances by the Southern Illinois Symphony Orchestra, New York's Henry Street Playhouse Dance Company, and Composer Critic Deems Taylor will top the schedule for the second week. Taylor will give two lectures on April 10, the first, "From a Composer's Notebook," at 10 a. m. in Shryock Auditorium, and the second, "To day in the World of Music," at 8:15 p. m. in the Library Auditorium.

In its performance at SIU April 9, the Henry Street Playhouse group will stage "Kaleidoscope," an eight-part dance excursion with props, color designs and lighting effects against a background of ultra-modern music by John Cage. The performance, the company's second on the SIU campus, will begin at 8:15 p. m. in Shryock Auditorium.

Conductor Carmine Ficoelli will lead the Southern Illinois Symphony through an all-French program April 8 at 8:15 p. m. in Shryock Auditorium. The featured work will be Emmanuel Chabrier's "Spanish Rhapsody." A two-piano collaboration by SIU artists Fred Denker and Steven Barwick on Saint-Saens' "Carnival of the Animals" will also be programmed along with works by Milhaud, Gounod, Lalo, Bizet, Faure and Godard.

Composers Symposium

The Festival lineup for subsequent weeks includes such guest lecturers as Ceramist Marguerite Wildenhain, Designer Charles Eames and Painter Albert Christ Janer along with recital and concert activity by SIU musical organizations, two stage productions by the Southern Players and a major operatic work (Puccini's "La Boheme") by the SIU Opera Workshop.

The Festival climax will be marked by Midwest Student Composers Symposium, May 16-19, featuring Mlle. Nedie Boulanger, famed French teacher and theorist. Some 15 original compositions selected from submitted manuscripts will be played in public performances. The young composers, who represent a dozen states, will be granted private conferences with Mlle. Boulanger and will be guests of a testimonial banquet, May 17, and a University Convocation, May 18, at which Mlle. Boulanger will be awarded the Honorary Doctor of Music Degree from SIU. Howard Hanson, president of the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N. Y., will speak at the banquet.

Climbing

In 1900, life expectancy in the United States was 47.3 years. In 1954 (last year for which accurate figures are available), average life expectancy had climbed to an all-time high of 69.6 years, an increase of 22.3 years in a half century.

Return from Tour Of Mexico City And Other Points

Mr. and Mrs. Guy DeNeal, RFD 3, and his sister Mrs. Mary Parks, 811 North Main street have returned to their Harrisburg homes from a tour of Mexico City and other points of interest. They were joined at Houston, Texas, by Lt. Glendel DeNeal.

The party travelled via Mexican Airlines from Brownsville, Texas, to Mexico City, and travelled approximately 1,000 miles by automobile to visit places of unusual interest. Their tour guide was a graduate civil engineer, an ex-captain in the Mexican Navy, who spoke English very well.

Places visited included the pyramids, constructed many years before the discovery of America; the Guadalupe Shrine, an old monastery, built in 1529 and still in near perfect condition; Taxco, the silver city of Mexico where silver is mined and manufactured into jewelry in more than 100 small factories; Acapulco, resort city on the Pacific coast home of many million-dollar hotels and approximately 100 additional hotels under construction.

They had dinner one evening at the Hacienda Hermosa, which is an old sugar mill located about 75 miles southwest of Mexico City. It was built by Cortez in about 1530.

The vacationers also observed sugar cane, bananas, coconuts, oranges and other tropical fruits growing.

On their return to the United States they visited in the Houston, Galveston and Beaumont, Texas area, spending two days in Beaumont with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rutherford. She is the former Miss Marilu Foster of Harrisburg.

Mr. DeNeal states he made hundreds of pictures during the trip that should be suitable for various assembly programs.

(1) Notices (Continued)

In loving memory of our son Junior Darrell Rebecca who lost his life March 27, 1950: March always brings sad memories.

Of the one we loved so well, And the sad parting, When we could not say farewell.

Days of sadness often come o'er us, Tears in silence often flow. Love will always keep you near us,

Though you left us eight years ago. Sadly missed by his mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. Alice Cathcart, and his brother, Richard Rebecca, and family. *228-1

Labor Movement 'Shamed' by Crooks: Meany

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany said today the labor movement has been "shamed" by some "crooks" among its members but "the majority must not be punished because of the sins of the few."

He urged Congress, in considering new labor legislation, to avoid acting "in the same atmosphere of hysteria as marked the passage of the Taft-Hartley law."

The labor leader made his remarks in testimony prepared for a Senate Labor subcommittee studying proposed legislation to tighten regulations of union finances and administration.

He acknowledged in a 17,000-word statement that new legislation is needed. But he sharply attacked many features of an administration bill by Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) and another measure by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.).

He said the AFL-CIO favors one provision of the Kennedy bill requiring annual public financial reports of unions, but feels employers should be required to publish theirs too.

"If the UAW is to be compelled to reveal how much it spent supporting the strikers in the Kohler strike," he said, "the Kohler Co. should be likewise compelled to reveal how much it spent trying to break the strike."

Meany objected to a Kennedy proposal to require every officer and employee of a labor union to file an annual report on his personal finances. Such reports are not required from business leaders and employees and might be used to harass union officials.

Rackets Group Postpones Reuther Testimony

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Rackets Committee temporarily postponed its meeting with Walter P. Reuther today to accommodate senators who wanted to hear from AFL-CIO President George Meany.

Meany's appearance before a Senate Labor subcommittee conflicted with Reuther's date with the racket investigators, so the United Auto Workers chief's appearance was put off until afternoon.

Four members of the Rackets Committee are members of the labor subcommittee.

Reuther's appearance was expected to be the climactic moment of the Rackets Committee's long and turbulent hearings into the UAW's 4-year-old strike against the Kohler Co. of Wisconsin.

Campaign Manager For Adlai Dies

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — James A. Finnegan, 55, campaign manager for Democratic presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson in 1956, died of bronchial pneumonia Wednesday night.

Finnegan, a bachelor, was admitted to Misericordia Hospital Tuesday. He took a sudden turn for the worse and died at 11:25 p. m.

A former president of the City Council and Philadelphia Democratic chairman, Finnegan was appointed secretary of the commonwealth by Gov. George M. Leader. He took a leave of absence to become pre-convention manager for Stevenson in his drive to gain his second Democratic presidential nomination.

Reject Bids On Hodge Farm

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Circuit Judge DeWitt S. Crow Wednesday officially rejected all bids to purchase a 270-acre Missouri cattle farm turned over to the state by ex-Auditor Orville E. Hodge in restitution for funds taken during the Hodge scandal.

The highest bid on the property was about $25,000 entered by John Ringhofer, Chicago. Crow said the bid was less than two thirds the $45,000 appraised value of the farm, located in Montgomery County, Mo. Crow's order indicated that it had not been shown that there is no reasonable likelihood of a higher bid on the property, and consequently refused all bids.

The farm is an item in the trust set up by the state and Hodge and Mrs. Margaret Hodge, his wife, the assets of which are being sold to repay funds embezzled by Hodge. Mrs. Hodge, however, has a suit pending which charges that many of the assets in the trust agreement are hers personally and did not originate from funds embezzled by the ex-auditor.

Cattle Rustled From Farm Near Salem

SALEM, Ill. (AP) — A state police alert is on for some southern Illinois cattle rustlers.

Marion County Sheriff William Hoskinson at Salem said three head of registered Brown Swiss cattle was rustled from the Dr. Harold Snow farm southwest of Salem. The loss was discovered Wednesday afternoon.

Hoskinson said the two heifers and a cow were valued at $1,500. He said it was Marion County's first cattle rustling case in several years.

Saline Baptist Men's Octette to Sing at State Brotherhood Meeting

The Saline Baptist men's octette will go to East St. Louis Friday evening, to sing at a meeting of the Illinois Baptist Brotherhood, which will be held at Winstanley Baptist church. Several other men are planning to go.

In the octette are the following: Carroll Harbison, Maynard Cannon, Raymond Allen, Delmar Phelps, Joe Smith, Earl Tanner, A. J. Moye, and the director, Bob Burnett.

Three Firemen Killed, Six are Hurt in Blast

CHICAGO (AP) — Three firemen were killed and 6 others injured today when an explosion shattered a burning automobile agency and buried them under debris.

The victims were identified tentatively at T. Babich; Morris Krotty, 41, and Phillip Sheehan.

The five-alarm fire destroyed the one story building which was crowded with about 50 new and used cars. Fire Commissioner Robert Quinn estimated damages at $200,000.

Authorities said the dead and injured fire fighters were spraying water on the front of the building from a narrow sidewalk when a blast, apparently from gasoline in one of the cars caved in the roof.

The dead and injured were pulled from the burning wreckage by fellow firemen and rushed to Jackson Park Hospital.

Cause of the blaze, which broke out early today at the South Shore Lincoln-Mercury showroom, was not immediately determined. Fire-fighters said the agency, one of the city's largest, was jammed with new and used cars.

The blast occurred after firemen had been battling the flames for more than one-half hour.

No Violation
DETROIT — (UP) — Robert Smith got some good news when he pleaded guilty to backing his car through an intersection. Traffic Referee Oscar Riopelle informed Smith there is no law against backing a car through an intersection and dismissed the case.

The only ones interested in shorter working hours for policemen are the burglars.

Stevenson Urges Extension of Reciprocal Trade

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson said today that failure to extend the reciprocal trade program will weaken Western alliances, hurt U. S. world leadership and "push the great undeveloped areas into Communist arms."

He said the long-term result would be to "isolate, imperil and impoverish" the United States.

In an address prepared for a White House backed national conference for support of extension of the reciprocal trade program, the two-time presidential candidate told protectionist opponents of the program that no nation can be an island by itself in the modern world.

He said this includes the United States. Millions of its citizens, he added, derive their livelihood from trade.

Furthermore, he said, many staunch U. S. Allies live through trade. Unless these nations can trade with the United States without restrictive tariffs, he said, they may be forced to turn to the Soviet world.

"It would be a savage irony if the Japan we preserved from Communist aggression by bloodshed in the Korean War should be driven by American business into the arms of the Communists," Stevenson said.

President Eisenhower will make a major address on behalf of his trade program at a conference dinner tonight. The speech will be carried "live" by all radio networks and by ABC-TV between 8:30 and 9 p. m. c. s. t.

President Cuts Oil Imports

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today ordered another cut back in oil imports under his "voluntary" program from 771,400 to 713,000 barrels a day.

The President also issued an executive order intended to put teeth in the voluntary program. It provided that the federal government will not buy petroleum products from any domestic producer who does not comply with the voluntary reductions.

The new quota covers only oil imported from east of the Rockies. The western part of the nation is excluded.

The reduction was a victory for congressmen from oil states which have been forced to cut down production in recent months.

It was considered a defeat for the State Department which has been fielding strong protests from Canada and Venezuela against reducing further U. S. imports of their oils.

U.I. Farm, Home Festival Opens

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — The University of Illinois' first Farm and Home Festival opened today for a three-day exposition to display modern advances in farm and home life.

Theme for the first festival, which will be held annually, is "The Wonder Worlds of Farm and Home Progress." The festival replaces the annual "Farm and Home Week," which has been sponsored by the U. of I. college of agriculture.

Six major exhibit areas and three auditoriums on the campus here have been prepared for the exhibition. Some 25,000 visitors are expected during the three days of the festival.

Predict 4 to 6 Months for Explorer III

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Explorer III, a much huskier satellite than anybody had suspected, is now expected to ride the channels of silent space for possibly six months, it was announced today by the Naval Research Laboratory.

When the new American baby moon was launched Wednesday from this missile center it, swung into an eccentric orbit that ranged from 100 to 2,000 miles distance from the earth. The erratic course brought gloomy predictions from the experts that it might burn itself out in a few days.

No so, said the Navy Research Laboratory in Washington in the first detailed study of the satellite.

The laboratory said the life expectancy of the nation's third satellite is four to six months.

After making complicated calculations based on radio signals from the little moon, the Naval Research Laboratory issued what it called "the latest refined orbital elements for Explorer III."

They were: Time for completing one trip around the earth 115.7 minutes.

Perigee (closest point to earth) 125 miles.

Apogee (farthest point) 1,735 miles.

Angle to Equator 33.3 degrees.

Lifetime expectancy one-third to one-half year.

Jacqueline Harris Assumes Extension Duties In Macoupin County

Jacqueline Harris

Jacqueline Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ewell Harris, Galatia, has assumed her duties with Home Economics Extension in Macoupin county, with offices in Carlinville.

Miss Harris is a native of Saline county and a graduate of Southern Illinois University. She taught homemaking in Vienna, Grayville and Norris City before accepting the position with the University of Illinois.

Skip Ramsey, Nephew of Mrs. Nick Poulos Sings At Events in Joliet

Skip Ramsey, a sophomore at Joliet high school and nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Poulos of Harrisburg, is embarking on a singing career at Joliet in partnership with John Elmore, another sophomore at Joliet high.

Ramsey and Elmore have been singing for Tri-Hi-Y's record hops, the school choir and other groups, and Skip also likes to write his own songs, hoping to have some published in the future.

Skip has been singing since he was in the fifth grade and during this semester he and Elmore have launched into a real singing career.

Skip entered Joliet high school after moving from Harrisburg where he attended school previously.

LEAD WITH YOUR LEFT

by ED LACY

THE STORY: Rose Henderson has complained that she is being bothered by professional hecklers because she is writing an article exposing a monopoly. Detective Wintino is investigating the case, although his mind is on the murder of a former policeman which he hopes to solve.

IX

"Miss Henderson, I have to look at things objectively. I'm merely trying to show you there might be other explanations for the things you complain about. For example, let's get back to a boy friend who could be sore enough to phone—"

"Will you stop jabbering about a boy friend!" she snapped, jumping to her feet. "I haven't been on a date in months. I've been too busy. I told you I was working as a stenographer and in the evenings I did my writing."

"I can't quite see anybody spending a couple of thousand bucks a week to upset you."

"Let me give you a picture of these firms. They do a good business manufacturing small electrical devices—doorbells, buzzers, switches. For the last year there have been rumors of something revolutionary, what might be termed a liquid wire than can be painted on. This would cut the production cost of thousands of gadgets by at least half—do away with wiring. A patent has already been issued to a California scientist on this. However a certain type of crushed metal is needed to make the paint conductive and the four companies I mentioned have cornered the market on this metal. In brief they plan to squeeze everybody else out."

"A bunch of doorbell manufacturers are spending two grand a week to stop your article?"

"This 'bunch of doorbell manufacturers' figure not only to split some three millions in profit in the first two years, but there are untold uses for this wire paint. Once they control this, they'll be in a position to drive competitors out and in time send prices sky-high."

"And the magazine, what are they doing about your troubles?"

"They can only do what I've done—call in the police. After all, I'm just a free-lancer and the magazine hasn't the money to fight these companies. The Spectator is lucky to break even each month."

"What are you getting for the article?"

"Two hundred dollars."

"Why don't these outfits spend a few grand in advertising and buy off the magazine?"

"Because it isn't that type of magazine."

"You're not getting much pay for all the work you're doing on this. What's in it for you?"

"Partly I do it because they're breaking the law. Also I'll benefit in other ways. The publicity if the article makes enough noise will get me other assignments. Now, do you think I might get some protection from the police instead of a grilling?"

"I wasn't grilling you, we have to check all sides of a story. I'll report this back to my boss Lieutenant Reed. We've been busy on a murder and I doubt if he can spare a man to guard you 24 hours a day. But he might put a tap on your phone, try and trace those calls. I'll let you know what we can do," I told her, getting up heading for the door, a little high from her perfume.

She shrugged and everything that moved was a boot to watch. "At least you still don't think there's some love-struck idiot after me."

"I don't rule out a nutty boy friend because... Miss Henderson, let's not fence for compliments, every time you look into a mirror you see an exciting young woman. You certainly know that."

Her face was a slow blush, then came this warm, almost tickling laughter. "I suppose I should say thank you. Thank you, Mr. ..."

"Wintino, Dave Wintino" I took out an assignment slip, wrote my name and precinct phone number on it. "Next time you're pushed around on the street, if you're sure it was deliberate, tell the nearest cop to hold the man and have the cop call me. Show him this card."

I walked down to the basement, and found the super. He was an old mousey duck in dirty overalls and I asked, "Been any men around inquiring about Miss Henderson up in 3C?"

"You another one? I'm too busy to be answering questions all the time." Eating would be a problem for him, he only had a couple of mossy teeth in his mouth.

"Another one? How many men have been here?"

"Don't rightly recall. I'd say five, six. They come late at night or early in the morning, get me out of my bed to ask about her."

"What do they ask?"

"All kinds of things. Does she entertain men, these men ask, does she have meetings in her flat, is she a Red? Was one creepy old man yesterday about scared the living life out of me just to see him, he wanted to know if I thought she was selling dope. I understand they been asking some of the tenants, too."

"Any of these men give you their names, say what they were?"

"Nope. They just fired questions at me."

"Can you describe them, would you recognize any of them again?"

"Nope. Except for the creepy one they was all well-dressed, classy-looking men. I told you I ain't got time to be answering a lot of questions."

"But you have time to shoot your big mouth off."

Mrs. Sarah Jane Easton Observes Her 91st Birthday

Mrs. Sarah Jane Easton

Mrs. Sarah Jane Easton was 91 years old Tuesday. She is in good health and was pleased with the birthday dinner given for her in the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James (Virdie) North, RFD 1, Harrisburg, and prepared by Mrs. North. Her sons, Louis Easton, Cleveland, Ohio, and Booker Easton, South Bend, Ind., remembered the day with gifts and her grandson, Archie Stewart, whom she raised, sent a gift also.

Mrs. Easton was born three miles south of Eldorado in the Redwood community March 25, 1867, and has lived in Saline and Williamson counties most of her life. Her grandfather, Neal Elliott, was among the first settlers of Saline county. Mrs. Easton was the mother of eight children, three of whom are living and she has eight grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

She makes her home with James North of the Wilmoth addition in Harrisburg.

Friend, Kluszewski Lead Pirates to 6-4 Victory Over Los Angeles Dodgers

By United Press
It's a pretty fair bet today that the Pittsburgh Pirates will have both Bob Friend and Ted Kluszewski in their opening-day lineup.

These are the two key men in the Pirates' plans to move into the first division for the first time since 1948 and consequently it was a big day for manager Danny Murtaugh Wednesday when they combined their efforts in a 6-4 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Friend struck out seven and yielded nine hits as he went the full nine innings. The hard-throwing right-hander shut out the Dodgers after the third inning.

Kluszewski tested his ailing back in game-competition for the first time and reported "It felt fine." Kluszewski batted three times. He beat out an infield hit in the first inning and then scored all the way on a double by Bob Clemente—a feat that probably surprised even big Klu.

Whitey Ford, out with an ailing arm part of last season, also went nine innings and the New York Yankees thus were able to laugh off a 7-3 loss to the St. Louis Cardinals. Ford pitched for the Yankees "B" team while the varsity took its lumps from the Cardinals, and came up with a 12-strikeout, four-hitter against Richmond of the International League.

The Chicago White Sox scored in double figures for the second straight game and walloped the Kansas City Athletics, 14-1; the San Francisco Giants connected for five home runs in a 7-5 conquest of the Baltimore Orioles; the Chicago Cubs beat the Cleveland Indians, 10-5, with another five-homer barrage; Joe Adcock hit two homers as the Milwaukee Braves whipped the Philadelphia Phillies, 10-2, and the Boston Red Sox downed the Detroit Tigers, 4-2, for their fourth win in a row.

List Schedule Of College Grid Games for TV

NEW YORK (AP)—The schedule of college football games that the nation's television viewers will see this fall, complete except for regional games, was announced today by the NCAA and the National Broadcasting System.

NBC was awarded the national telecasting rights for the fourth straight year by the NCAA's Television Committee. The network then drew up a game schedule which was approved by the committee.

The program for games on regional TV was not announced today but will be drawn up in each NCAA region by the colleges and conferences in that region.

Here is the complete 1958 program of college football television:

Sat., Sept. 20 — Split network; Missouri-Vanderbilt at Columbia, Mo., and Denver-Oklahoma State at Denver, Colo.

Sat., Sept. 27 — Auburn-Tennessee at Birmingham, Ala.

Sat., Oct. 4 — California-Washington State at Berkeley, Calif.

Sat., Oct. 11 — Big Ten game (to be selected later).

Sat., Oct. 18 — Regional television.

Sat., Oct. 25 — Regional television.

Sat., Nov. 1 — Big Ten game (to be selected later).

Sat., Nov. 8 — Regional television.

Sat., Nov. 15 — Regional television.

Sat., Nov. 22 — Iowa-Notre Dame at Iowa City, Iowa.

Thurs., Nov. 27 — Texas-Texas A. & M. at Austin, Tex.

Sat., Nov. 29 — Army-Navy at Philadelphia.

Sat., Dec. 6 — Split network; Miami-Oregon at Miami, Fla.; and Boston College-Holy Cross at Boston.

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A wave of concern, almost as gloomy as the Florida weather, swept over most major league camps in the so-called "Sunshine State" today because of an epidemic of injuries and ailments to some of baseball's brightest stars.

Hardly any of the 12 major league clubs training in Florida has escaped the injury jinx. Most managers, and the players themselves, blame it on the cold and rainy weather and the poor condition of the training camp diamonds.

The oldest of the managers say this is the worst spring they can remember. They hope it will warm up between now and the time they are breaking camp next week.

Ted Williams, the highest paid player in the game with a salary calling for $125,000, heads the list of luminaries whose injuries put them in the doubtful class, at least for the season's opening weeks.

Others include Duke Snider, the big batman of the Dodgers; Ted Kluszewski, Pirate first baseman;

Al Smith, whom the White Sox obtained from Cleveland in the hope he would solve their outfield problem; George Crowe, who filled in so admirably for Kluszewski for the Redlegs last season; Bill Bruton, the speedy centerfielder of the world champion Braves; and Ted Abernathy, who at the tail end of the 1957 season looked like a coming pitching star for the Washington Senators.

To add to the worries of the managers is the fact that most of their star pitchers have been racked up in exhibition games and the almost universal chorus of the other players that they have never before had so many aches and pains in spring training.

25,839 Enrolled At U. of Illinois

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—The University of Illinois today announced total enrollment for its second semester of the current school year is 25,839, an increase of 79 over total enrollment for the same semester last year.

U. of I. Dean C. W. Sanford, of the office of admissions and records, said the total enrollment here is 17,627, plus 4,769 in the Navy Pier branch and the professional schools in Chicago. An additional 3,371 students are attending credit classes in 71 communities, he said.

Elmer Gladson, long-time partner of Ken Hamilton on WEBQ sports shows, handled the tournament assignments and was at the mike when WEBQ went "big time" and was the originating station for a "network" WEBQ fed the state tournament to the Anna station.

Elmer tells me Roger Suttner, the big guy from Ridgway, was very much in the public eye at Champaign during the state tourney last weekend. In fact he quoted someone with the remark, "With Suttner around I believe Marilyn Monroe could go wriggling by and not be noticed."

Baseball has not taken preference over academic life in the Eldorado schools, regardless of what you may have read in metropolitan newspapers during the last day or two.

A story, datelined Eldorado, appeared in Wednesday's editions of some of the city papers, indicating the Eldorado school board had found money to extend the high school athletic program to include baseball, but also had found it necessary to abolish the position of superintendent of schools.

Two separate, absolutely non-related activities were woven together in such a manner that it surely gave the schools of Eldorado a "black eye."

The story failed to take into consideration there are two boards of education in Eldorado, with probably only one thing in common. Both are interested in Eldorado schools—one in the grade schools and the other in the high school.

The high school has added baseball to its spring program and has authorized the purchase of uniforms and other necessary equipment.

The elementary board, due to decreased enrollment and problems that accompany enrollment losses, has voted to abolish the office of superintendent.

The baseball angle is certainly not unusual. The superintendent angle might be.

But when the two non-related stories are woven into one, then it becomes very unusual. Makes good reading, too.

Only one thing is wrong. It is absolutely untrue, as written.

WIN TRACTOR PAINTING CONTEST—A tractor painting contest conducted by the International Harvester Company in the Illinois Zone of the Evansville district which closed February 15 was won by the Scherrer Equipment Co. staff at Eldorado. Shown receiving the first place awards of transistor radios from Sam Ball of the Evansville office are John Ward, head mechanic, and Bill Spahr, head of the parts department, as George Scherrer, right, looks on.

A total of 25 tractors including the one shown in photo was painted during the 15-week period and the boys are still at it, Mr. Scherrer reports.

Celtics Fail to Sweep Series With Warriors

By United Press
Now the St. Louis Hawks have a chance to beat the Boston Celtics into the final round of the National Basketball Association playoffs.

It seemed that the Celtics would be the first team to land in the last bracket but they blew a chance for a series sweep over Philadelphia's Warriors Wednesday night when they dropped a 112-97 decision at Philadelphia.

The defeat cut Boston's lead in the semi-finals to 3-1 and postponed the series clinching at least until the next game.

St. Louis, holding a 2-1 lead over Detroit in their Western Division series, can wrap that up by whipping the Pistons tonight in St. Louis.

Cub Scouts Organized At Equality

On Wednesday, March 19, Edwin McGraw of Carmi, district scout executive of the Egyptian Council of Boy Scouts of America, met at the Equality grade school with several parents and children interested in organizing a Cub Scout pack in Equality.

Mr. McGraw explained in great detail all phases of Cub Scouting to the group, and also showed film strips and answered questions.

The pack committee was chosen as follows: David R. Sanks, chairman; Charles Wenzel, membership; Jack Garza, activities; John Ed Murphy, advancement; and Rita Pearce, finance. Robert Dodson is the Cubmaster and Bob Williams, assistant Cubmaster. Den mothers are Mrs. John Murphy and Mrs. William Williams. Their assistants are Mrs. Charles Wenzel and Mrs. Roby Mahan, respectively.

The Cub Scout program is for boys between the ages of 8 and 11 with dens in groups of five or six boys meeting weekly with a den mother or her assistant.

At present there are enough boys registered to have two dens. As more boys reach their eighth birthday or other boys become interested in the program, more dens will be formed.

The Equality P. T. A. is the
